1. Which of the following titles best summarizes the passage as a whole?

Answer: (A) At the Threshold of Neutrino Astronomy

2. With which of the following statements regarding neutrino astronomy would the author be most likely to agree?

Answer: (C) Neutrino astronomy can be expected to lead to major breakthroughs in astronomy.

3. In the last paragraph, the author describes the development of astronomy in order to

Answer: (A) suggest that the potential findings of neutrino astronomy can be seen as part of a series of astronomical successes

4. According to the passage, one advantage that neutrinos have for studies in astronomy is that they

Answer: (D) carry information about their history with them

5. According to the passage, the primary use of the apparatus mentioned in lines 24-32 would be to

Answer: (E) detect the presence of cosmic neutrinos

6. The passage states that interactions between neutrinos and other matter are

Answer: (A) rare

7. The passage mentions which of the following as a reason that neutrinos are hard to detect?

Answer: (E) The infrequency of their interaction with other matter

8. According to the passage, the interaction of a neutrino with other matter can produce

Answer: (D) charged particles and light 22 GMAT, GRE, LSAT ■■

9. According to the passage, one of the methods used to establish the properties of neutrinos was

Answer: (C) observation of neutrinos that were artificially created

Passage 9: Price-Fixing in Industrialized Economies

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to

Answer: (E) argue that price-fixing, in one form or another, is an inevitable part of and benefit to the economy of any industrialized society

2. The passage provides information that would answer which of the following questions about price-fixing? I. What are some of the ways in which prices can be fixed? II. Answer: (A) The directors of large firms will continue to anticipate the demand for products.

9. In the passage, the author is primarily concerned with

Answer: (B) criticizing a point of view

Passage 10: Caffeine, Adenosine, and Brain Activity

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to

Answer: (D) describe an alternative hypothesis and provide evidence and arguments that support it

2. Which of the following, if true, would most weaken the theory proposed by Snyder et al?

Answer: (D) The concentration of caffeine required to dislodge adenosine from its receptors in the human brain is much greater than the concentration that produces behavioral stimulation in humans.

3. According so Snyder et al, caffeine differs from adenosine in that caffeine

Answer: (D) permits release of neurotransmitters when it is bound to adenosine receptors, whereas adenosine inhibits such release

4. In response to experimental results concerning IBMX, Snyder et al contended that it is not uncommon for psychoactive drugs to have

Answer: (A) mixed effects in the brain

5. The passage suggests that Snyder et al believe that if the older theory concerning caffeine's effects were correct, which of the following would have to be the case? I. All neurotransmitters would increase the short-term concentration of cyclic AMP in target neurons. II. Substances other than caffeine that inhibit the production of phosphodiesterase would be stimulants. III. All concentration levels of caffeine that are high enough to produce stimulation would also inhibit the production of phosphodiesterase. 20

Answer: (D) II and III only

6. According to Snyder et al, all of the following compounds can bind to specific receptors in the brain EXCEPT

Answer: (E) phosphodiesterase

7. Snyder et al suggest that caffeine's ability to bind to A1 and A2 receptors can be at least partially attributed to which of the following?

Answer: (B) The structural relationship between caffeine and adenosine

8. The author quotes Snyder et al in lines 38-43 most probably in order to

Answer: (B) summarize a major finding of their experiments

9. The last paragraph of the passage performs which of the following functions?

Answer: (A) Describes a disconfirming experimental result and reports the explanation 28 GMAT, GRE, LSAT
■■ given by Snyder et al in an attempt to reconcile this result with their theory.

Passage 11: Archaeology: Funding, Preservation, and Public Responsibility

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to propose

Answer: (B) a way to curb illegal digging while benefiting the archaeological profession

2. The author implies that all of the following statements about duplicate artifacts are true EXCEPT:

Answer: (E) Such artifacts frequently exceed in quality those already catalogued in museum collections.

Answer: (D) They have misunderstood how managers use intuition in making business decisions.

3. Which of the following best exemplifies “an „Aha!■ experience” (line 28) as it is presented in the passage?

Answer: (C) A manager suddenly connects seemingly unrelated facts and experiences to create a pattern relevant to the problem at hand.

4. According to the passage, the classical model of decision analysis includes all of the following EXCEPT

Answer: (D) action undertaken in order to discover more information about a problem 36 GMAT, GRE, LSAT ■■

5. It can be inferred from the passage that which of the following would most probably be one major difference in behavior between Manager X, who uses intuition to reach decisions, and Manager Y, who uses only formal decision analysis?

Answer: (C) Manager X takes action in order to arrive at the solution to a problem; Manager Y does not.

6. It can be inferred from the passage that “thinking/acting cycles” (line 45) in managerial practice would be likely to result in which of the following? I. A manager analyzes a network of problems and then acts on the basis of that analysis. II. A manager gathers data by acting and observing the effects of action. III. A manager takes action without being able to articulate reasons for that particular action.

Answer: (D) II and III only

7. The passage provides support for which of the following statements?

Answer: (E) Intuition enables managers to employ their practical experience more efficiently.

8. Which of the following best describes the organization of the first paragraph of the passage?

Answer: (B) A conventional model is dismissed and an alternative introduced.

Passage 14: Embryonic Development and Cellular Determination

Question + correct answer

1. The passage is most probably directed at which kind of audience?

Answer: (E) Undergraduate biology majors in a molecular biology course

2. It can be inferred from the passage that the morphogenetic determinants present in the early embryo are

Answer: (E) present in larger quantities than is necessary for the development of a single individual

3. The main topic of the passage is

Answer: (D) cell determination as an issue in the study of embryonic development

4. According to the passage, when biologists believed that the cells in the early embryo were undetermined, they made which of the following mistakes?

Answer: (E) They assumed that different ways of separating an embryo into two parts would be equivalent as far as the fate of the two parts was concerned.

5. It can be inferred from the passage that the initial production of histones after an egg is fertilized takes place

Answer: (A) in the cytoplasm

6. It can be inferred from the passage that which of the following is dependent on the fertilization of an egg?

Answer: (B) Synthesis of proteins called histones

7. According to the passage, the morphogenetic determinants present in the unfertilized egg cell are which of the following?

Answer: (C) Maternal messenger RNA■s

8. The passage suggests that which of the following plays a role in determining whether an embryo separated into two parts will develop as two normal embryos? I. The stage in the embryo■s life at which the separation occurs II. The instrument with which the separations is accomplished III. The plane in which the cut is made that separates the embryo

Answer: (D) I and III only

9. Which of the following circumstances is most comparable to the impasse biologists encountered in trying to resolve the debate about cell determination (lines 12-18)?

Answer: (D) The predicament of a linguist trying to develop a theory of language acquisition when knowledge of the structure of language itself is rudimentary at best

Passage 15: The Great Migration of Black Americans

Question + correct answer

1. The author indicates explicitly that which of the following records has been a source of information in her investigation?

Answer: (D) The federal census of

Answer: (C) there would be an equivalent rise in unionization of private-sector clerical workers

8. The author suggests that it would be disadvantageous to a union if

Answer: (A) many workers in the locality were not unionized

9. The author implies that, in comparison with working women today, women working in the years prior to the mid-1970s showed a greater tendency to

Answer: (E) quit working prior of retirement age

Passage 18: Milankovitch Theory and the Timing of Ice Ages

Question + correct answer

1. In the passage, the author is primarily interested in

Answer: (D) presenting a theory and describing a new method to test that theory

2. The author of the passage would be most likely to agree with which of the following statements about the Milankovitch theory?

Answer: (D) It is one plausible explanation, though not the only one, for the ice ages.

3. It can be inferred from the passage that the isotope record taken from ocean sediments would be less useful to researchers if which of the following were true?

Answer: (B) It had far more gaps in its sequence than the record taken from rocks on land.

4. According to the passage, which of the following is true of the ratios of oxygen isotopes in ocean sediments?

Answer: (C) They can be used to deduce the relative volume of land ice that was present when the sediment was laid down. 50 GMAT, GRE, LSAT ■■■

5. It can be inferred from the passage that precipitation formed from evaporated ocean water has

Answer: (B) less oxygen 18 than does ocean water

6. According to the passage, which of the following is (are) true of the ice ages? I. The last ice age occurred about 25,000 years ago. II. Ice ages have lasted about 10,000 years for at least the last several hundred thousand years. III. Ice ages have occurred about every 100,000 years for at least the last several hundred thousand years.

Answer: (C) III only

7. It can be inferred from the passage that calcium carbonate shells

Answer: (E) reflect the isotopic composition of the water at the time the shells were formed

8. The purpose of the last paragraph of the passage is to

Answer: (A) offer a note of caution

9. According to the passage, one advantage of studying the isotope record of ocean sediments is that it

Answer: (B) shows little variation in isotope ratios when samples are taken from different continental locations

Passage 19: Social Networks and Minority Business Ownership

Question + correct answer

1. Based on the information in the passage, it would be LEAST likely for which of the following persons to be part of a self-help network?

Answer: (E) The entrepreneur's banker

2. Which of the following illustrates the working of a self-help support network, as such networks are described in the passage?

Answer: (D) A neighborhood-based fraternal organization develops a program of on-the-job training for its members and their friends.

3. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage about rotating credit associations?

Answer: (B) They accounted for a significant portion of the investment capital used by Chinese immigrants in New York in the early twentieth century.

Answer: (C) The used of pesticides may be endangering certain plant species dependent on insects for pollination.

2. According to the author, a flowering plant species whose fecundity has declined due to pesticide spraying may not experience an overall population decline if the plant species can do which of the following?

Answer: (A) Reproduce itself by means of shoots and runners.

3. The passage suggests that the lack of an observed decline in the fecundity of the creeping dogwood strengthens the researchers conclusions regarding pesticide use because the

Answer: (D) creeping dogwood is similar to the red-osier dogwood, but its insect pollinators are known to be insensitive to the pesticide used in the study

4. The passage suggests that which of the following is true of the forest regions in New Brunswick sprayed with most anti-budworm pesticides other than Matacil?

Answer: (A) The fecundity of some flowering plants in those regions may have decreased to an even greater degree than in the regions where Matacil is used.

5. It can be inferred that which of the following is true of plant fecundity as it is defined in the passage?

Answer: (A) A plant's fecundity decreases as the percentage of unpollinated flowers on the plant increases.

6. It can be inferred from the passage that which of the following plant species would be LEAST likely to experience a decrease in fecundity as a result of the spraying of a pesticide not directly toxic to plants?

Answer: (C) A wind-pollinated flowering tree that is short-lived

7. Which of the following assumptions most probably underlies the author's tentative recommendation in lines 51-54?

Answer: (B) The use of pesticides is likely to continue into the future.

Passage 21: Migration as a Framework for Early American History

Answer: (A) High culture in New England never equaled the high culture of England.

5. According to the passage, which of the following is true of English migrants to the colonies during the eighteenth century?

Answer: (D) They expected that the colonies would offer them increased opportunity.

6. The author of the passage is primarily concerned with

Answer: (E) discussing a reinterpretation of early American history that is based on new social research on migration

7. It can be inferred from the passage that American history textbooks used to assert that

Answer: (C) New England communities were much alike in terms of their economics and demographics

8. The author of the passage would be most likely to agree with which of the following statements about Bailyn's work?

Answer: (A) Bailyn underestimates the effects of Puritan thought on North American culture.

Passage 22: Import Competition and Legal Protection

Question + correct answer

1. The passage is chiefly concerned with

Answer: (B) warning that the application of laws affecting trade frequently has unintended consequences

2. It can be inferred from the passage that the minimal basis for a complaint to the International Trade Commission is which of the following?

Answer: (D) The company requesting import relief has been injured by the sale of imports in the United States.

3. The last paragraph performs which of the following functions in the passage?

Answer: (E) It cites a specific case that illustrates a problem presented more generally in the previous paragraph.

4. The passage warns of which of the following dangers?

Answer: (D) Companies that are not United States-owned may seek legal protection from import competition under United States import relief laws.

5. The passage suggests that which of the following is most likely to be true of United States trade laws?

Answer: (D) Those that help one unit within a parent company will not necessarily help other units in the company.

6. It can be inferred from the passage that the author believes which of the following about the complaint mentioned in the last paragraph?

Answer: (B) The complaint violated the intent of import relief laws. 62 GMAT, GRE, LSAT ■■

7. According to the passage, companies have the general impression that International Trade Commission import relief practices have

Answer: (C) actually helped companies that have requested import relief

8. According to the passage, the International Trade Commission is involved in which of the following?

Answer: (A) Investigating allegations of unfair import competition

Passage 23: Native American Oral Histories and Ethnology

Question + correct answer

1. Which of the following best describes the organization of the passage?

Answer: (D) The use of a research method is described and the limitations of the results obtained are discussed.

2. Which of the following is most similar to the actions of nineteenth-century ethnologists in their editing of the life stories of Native Americans?

Answer: (C) A sports announcer describes the action in a team sport with which he is unfamiliar.

3. According to the passage, collecting life stories can be a useful methodology because

Answer: (A) life stories provide deeper insights into a culture than the hypothesizing of academics who are not members of that culture

4. Information in the passage suggests that which of the following may be a possible way to eliminate bias in the editing of life stories?

Answer: (E) Reporting all of the information that the informant provides regardless of the investigator's personal opinion about its intrinsic value

5. The primary purpose of the passage as a whole is to

Answer: (C) critique a methodology

6. It can be inferred from the passage that a characteristic of the ethnological research on Native Americans conducted during the nineteenth century was the use of which of the following?

Answer: (B) A language other than the informant's for recording life stories

7. The passage mentions which of the following as a factor that can affect the accuracy of ethnologists' transcriptions of life stories?

Answer: (C) The length of time the researchers spent in the culture under study

8. It can be inferred from the passage that the author would be most likely to agree with which of the following statements about the usefulness of life stories as a source of ethnographic information?

Answer: (A) They can be a source of information about how people in a culture view the world.

Passage 24: Gene Expression and Plant Cell Differentiation

Question + correct answer

1. According to the passage, the five well-known plant hormones are not useful in controlling the growth of crops because

Answer: (B) each hormone has various effects on plants

2. The passage suggests that the place of hypothalamic hormones in the hormonal hierarchies of animals is similar to the place of which of the following in plants?

Answer: (D) The five major hormones

3. The passage suggests that which of the following is a function likely to be performed by an oligosaccharin?

Answer: (A) To stimulate a particular plant cell to become part of a plant's root system

4. The author mentions specific effects that auxin has on plant development in order to illustrate the

Answer: (E) concept of pleiotropy as it is exhibited by plant hormones

5. According to the passage, which of the following best describes a function performed by oligosaccharins?

Answer: (E) Influencing the development of a plant's cells by controlling the expression of the cells' genes

6. The passage suggests that, unlike the pleiotropic hormones, oligosaccharins could be used effectively to

Answer: (C) artificially control specific aspects of the development of crops

7. The author discusses animal hormones primarily in order to

Answer: (A) introduce the idea of a hierarchy of hormones

Passage 25: Women's Studies in Korea and Cultural Identity

Question + correct answer

1. Which of the following best summarizes the content of the passage?

Answer: (B) A report of work in social theory done by a particular women's studies program

2. It can be inferred from the passage that Korean scholars in the field of women's studies undertook an analysis of Freudian theory as a response to which of the following?

Answer: (E) Their assessment of the relevance and limitations of Western feminist theory with respect to Korean culture

3. Which of the following conclusions about the introduction of Western ideas to Korean society can be supported by information contained in the passage?

Answer: (B) The introduction of Western ideas to Korean society is viewed by some Koreans as a challenge to Korean identity.

4. It can be inferred from the passage that the broadcast media in Korea considered the establishment of the Ewha women's studies program

Answer: (C) newsworthy

5. It can be inferred from the passage that the position taken by some of the supporters of the Ewha women's studies program was problematic to the founders of the program because those supporters

Answer: (A) assumed that the program would be based on the uncritical adoption of Western theory

6. Which of the following statements is most consistent with the view of personality development held by the Ewha women's studies group?

Answer: (C) Personality development is influenced by the characteristics of the society in which a person lives.

7. Which of the following statements about the Western feminist critique of Freudian theory can be supported by information contained in the passage?

Answer: (A) It recognizes the influence of Western culture on Freudian theory.

8. According to the passage, critics of the Ewha women's studies program cited the program as a threat to which of the following? I. National identity II. National unification III. Economic development IV. Family integrity

Answer: (C) I, II, and III only

Passage 26: Methods for Reconstructing Past Climates

Question + correct answer

1. Which of the following statements about the difference between marine and continental sedimentation is supported by information in the passage?

Answer: (E) Marine sedimentation is much more continuous than is continental sedimentation.

2. Which of the following statements best describes the organization of the passage as a whole?

Answer: (C) The author describes the common requirements of methods for determining past climatic conditions and then discusses examples of such methods.

3. It can be inferred from the passage that paleoclimatologists have concluded which of the following on the basis of their study of snow-line elevations in the southwestern United States?

Answer: (E) The high lake levels during the last ice age may have been a result of less evaporation rather than more precipitation.

4. Which of the following would be the most likely topic for a paragraph that logically continues the passage?

Answer: (E) A third method for investigating past climatic conditions

5. The author discusses lake levels in the southwestern United States in order to

Answer: (B) provide an example of the uncertainty involved in interpreting lake levels

6. It can be inferred from the passage that an environmental signal found in geological material would not be useful to paleoclimatologists if it

Answer: (D) also reflected subsequent environmental changes

7. According to the passage, the material used to determine past climatic conditions must be widespread for which of the following reasons? I. Paleoclimatologists need to make comparisons between periods of geological history. II. Paleoclimatologists need to compare materials that have supported a wide variety of vegetation. III. Paleoclimatologists need to make comparisons with data collected in other regions.

Answer: (D) I and III only

8. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage about the study of past climates in arid and semiarid regions?

Answer: (A) It is sometimes more difficult to determine past climatic conditions in arid and semiarid regions than in temperate regions.

Passage 27: Cost Cutting, Productivity, and Worker Training

Question + correct answer

1. The author of the passage is primarily concerned with

Answer: (B) recommending a different approach

2. It can be inferred from the passage that the manufacturers mentioned in line 2 expected that the measures they implemented would

Answer: (C) increase their competitive advantage

3. The primary function of the first paragraph of the passage is to

Answer: (E) present a historical context for the author's observations

4. The author refers to Abernathy's study (line 36) most probably in order to

Answer: (C) support an earlier assertion about one method of increasing productivity

5. The author's attitude toward the culture in most factories is best described as

Answer: (B) critical

6. In the passage, the author includes all of the following EXCEPT

Answer: (E) an illustration of a process technology

7. The author suggests that implementing conventional cost-cutting as a way of increasing manufacturing competitiveness is a strategy that is

Answer: (D) useful but inadequate

Passage 28: Women's History and the American Frontier

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to

Answer: (B) discuss divergent interpretations of women's experience on the western frontier

2. Which of the following can be inferred about the novelists and historians mentioned in lines 19-20?

Answer: (B) They assumed that the frontier had offered more opportunities to women than had the East.

3. Which of the following, if true, would provide additional evidence for the Stasists' argument as it is described in the passage?

Answer: (D) Western women received financial compensation for labor that was comparable to what women received in the East.

4. According to the passage, Turner makes which of the following connections in his Frontier Thesis? I. A connection between American individualism and economic equality II. A connection between geographical expansion and social change III. A connection between social change and financial prosperity

Answer: (D) I and II only

5. It can be inferred that which of the following statements is consistent with the Reactionist position as it is described in the passage?

Answer: (D) Gender relations were more difficult for women in the West than they were in the East.

6. Which of the following best describes the organization of the passage?

Answer: (C) An important theory and its effects are discussed and then ways in which it has been revised are described.

7. Which of the following is true of the Stasist School as it is described in the passage?

Answer: (D) It avoids extreme positions taken by other writers on women's history. 78 GMAT, GRE, LSAT
■■

Passage 29: Weddell Seals and the Physiology of Deep Diving

Question + correct answer

1. The passage provides information to support which of the following generalizations?

Answer: (E) The physiological behavior of animals in a laboratory setting is not always consistent with their physiological behavior in the wild.

2. It can be inferred from the passage that by describing the Weddell seal as preparing “for the worst” (line 41), biologists mean that it

Answer: (C) exhibits physiological behavior similar to that which characterizes its longest dives in the wild

3. The passage suggests that during laboratory dives, the pH of the Weddell seal’s blood is not adversely affected by the production of lactic acid because

Answer: (C) organs that revert to an anaerobic metabolism are temporarily isolated from the seal’s bloodstream

4. Which of the following best summarizes the main point of the passage?

Answer: (A) Recent field studies have indicated that descriptions of the physiological behavior of the Weddell seal during laboratory dives are not applicable to its most typical dives in the wild.

5. According to the author, which of the following is true of the laboratory studies mentioned in line 1? 59

Answer: (E) They provide an accurate account of the physiological behavior of Weddell seals during those dives in the wild in which they are either evading predators or exploring distant routes.

6. The author cites which of the following as characteristic of the Weddell seal’s physiological behavior during dives observed in the laboratory? I. A decrease in the rate at which the seal’s heart beats II. A constriction of the seal’s arteries III. A decrease in the levels of lactic acid in the seal’s blood IV. A temporary halt in the functioning of certain organs

Answer: (D) I, II, and IV only

7. The passage suggests that because Weddell seals are forcibly submerged during laboratory dives, they do which of the following?

Answer: (B) Exhibit the physiological responses that are characteristic of the longer dives they undertake in the wild.

Passage 30: The History of Unemployment in Industrial America

Question + correct answer

1. The passage is primarily concerned with

Answer: (B) summarizing and assessing a study

2. The passage suggests that before the early 1970s, which of the following was true of the study by historians of the working class in the United States?

Answer: (A) The study was infrequent or superficial, or both.

3. According to the passage, which of the following is true of Keyssar's findings concerning unemployment in Massachusetts?

Answer: (D) They are relevant to a historical understanding of the nature of unemployment in other states.

4. According to the passage, which of the following is true of the unemployment rates mentioned in line 15?

Answer: (B) They give less than a full sense of the impact of unemployment on working-class people.

5. Which of the following statements about the unemployment rate during the Great Depression can be inferred from the passage?

Answer: (A) It was sometimes higher than 15 percent.

6. According to the passage, Keyssar considers which of the following to be among the important predictors of the likelihood that a particular person would be unemployed in late nineteenth-century Massachusetts? I. The person's class II. Where the person lived or worked III. The person's age

Answer: (C) I and II only

7. The author views Keyssar's study with

Answer: (E) qualified admiration

8. Which of the following, if true, would most strongly support Keyssar's findings as they are described by the author?

Answer: (D) 62

Passage 31: Women Directors on Corporate Boards

Question + correct answer

1. The author of the passage would be most likely to agree with which of the following statements about achievement of the "ideal" mentioned in line 14?

Answer: (D) It might affect the quality of directors' service to corporations.

2. According to the passage, the pressure to appoint women to corporate boards differs from the pressure to employ women in the work force in which of the following ways?

Answer: (E) Corporations are not subject to statutory penalty for failing to include women on their boards.

3. All of the following are examples of issues that the organization described in the last paragraph would be likely to advise corporations on EXCEPT

Answer: (E) how to develop new markets

4. It can be inferred from the passage that, when seeking to appoint new members to a corporation's board, the chair traditionally looked for candidates who

Answer: (C) could work easily with other members of the board

5. According to the passage, which of the following is true about women outside the business world who are currently serving on corporate boards?

Answer: (C) Most were already known to the chairs of the board to which they were appointed.

6. The passage suggests that corporations of the past differ from modern corporations in which of the following ways?

Answer: (D) A corporation's effectiveness in coping with community needs was less likely to affect its growth and prosperity.

7. Which of the following best describes the organization of the passage?

Answer: (B) A problem is described, and then an advantage of resolving it is offered.

8. It can be inferred from the passage that factors making women uniquely valuable members of modern corporate boards would include which of the following? I. The nature of modern corporations II. The increased number of women CEOs III. The careers pursued by women currently available to serve on corporate boards

Answer: (D) I and III only

Passage 32: Disease and the Decline of Native American Populations

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to

Answer: (B) provide support for a hypothesis

2. According to the passage, virgin-soil epidemics can be distinguished from other catastrophic outbreaks of disease in that virgin-soil epidemics

Answer: (C) involve populations with no prior exposure to a disease

3. According to the passage, the British colonists were unlike the Spanish colonists in that the British colonists

Answer: (C) drove Native Americans off the land

4. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage concerning Spanish tribute records?

Answer: (C) They were being kept prior to the seventeenth century.

5. The author implies which of the following about measles?

Answer: (A) It is not usually a fatal disease. 88 GMAT, GRE, LSAT ■■

6. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage about the Native American inhabitants of Ungava Bay?

Answer: (B) They were immunologically defenseless against measles.

7. The author mentions the 1952 measles outbreak most probably in order to

Answer: (B) corroborate the documentary evidence of epidemic disease in colonial America

8. Which of the following, if newly discovered, would most seriously weaken the author's argument concerning the importance of virgin-soil epidemics in the depopulation of Native Americans?

Answer: (D) Fossils indicating Native American contact with smallpox prior to 1492

Passage 33: Intergalactic Gas and the Formation of Stars

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to

Answer: (B) provide evidence to dispute an accepted theory about the evolution of galaxies

2. The author uses the phrase “orthodox view of the universe” (line 3) to refer to the belief that

Answer: (A) the space between the galaxies is devoid of matter

3. It can be inferred from the passage that, if Fabian is correct, gas in the peripheral regions of a galaxy cluster

Answer: (B) is hotter than gas in the central regions of the galaxy

4. The author of the passage probably mentions Canizares’s determination in order to

Answer: (D) provide support for Fabian’s assertions about the Perseus galaxies

5. According to the passage, Fabian believes that gas flowing into a central galaxy has which of the following characteristics?

Answer: (B) It emits radiation with wavelengths that change as the gas moves toward the center of the galaxy.

6. According to the passage, Fabian’s theory makes use of which of the following principles?

Answer: (C) If pressure remains constant, the volume of a gas will decrease as it is cooled.

7. It can be inferred from the passage that which of the following is true of Fabian’s theory?

Answer: (B) It was not widely accepted in the 1970s.

Passage 34: Japanese Immigrants and Farming in California

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to

Answer: (C) summarize and critique a history of an early Japanese settlement in California

2. Which of the following best describes a “labor club,” as defined in the passage?

Answer: (D) A cooperative association whose members were dues-paying Japanese laborers

3. Based on information in the passage, which of the following statements concerning the Alien Land Law of 1913 is most accurate?

Answer: (D) It was applicable to first-generation immigrants but not to their American-born children.

4. Several Issei families join together to purchase a strawberry field and the necessary farming equipment. Such a situation best exemplifies which of the following, as it is described in the passage?

Answer: (B) A farming corporation

5. The passage suggests that which of the following was an indirect consequence of the collapse of the sugar beet industry in the Pajaro Valley?

Answer: (A) The Issei formed a permanent, family-based community.

6. The author of the passage would most likely agree that which of the following, if it had been included in Nakane’s study, would best remedy the particularistic nature of that study?

Answer: (C) A statistical table showing rates of farm ownership by Japanese Americans in four central California counties from 1890 to

7. It can be inferred from the passage that, when the Issei began to lease land from the Valley’s strawberry farmers, the Issei most probably did which of the following?

Answer: (C) They paid for the use of the land with a share of the strawberry crop.

Passage 35: Consumer Segmentation and the Limits of Targeted Marketing

Question + correct answer

1. The passage suggests which of the following about highly specialized trade media?

Answer: (B) They can be used to exclude from the program audience people who are not part of the program target.

2. According to the passage, most consumer-goods markets share which of the following characteristics? I. Customers who differ significantly from each other II. Large numbers of potential customers III. Customers who each represent a small percentage of potential sales

Answer: (E) I, II, and III

3. The passage suggests which of the following about direct selling?

Answer: (C) It is not economically feasible for most marketing programs.

4. The author mentions “trousers” (lines 9 and 11) most likely in order to

Answer: (D) clarify the distinction between the market segment and the program target

5. Which of the following best exemplifies the situation described in the last two sentences of the passage?

Answer: (E) A product suitable for men age 60 and over is advertised in a magazine read by adults of all ages.

6. The passage suggests that which of the following is true about the marketing of industrial products like those discussed in the third paragraph?

Answer: (A) The market segment and program target are identical.

7. The passage supports which of the following statements about demographic characteristics and marketing?

Answer: (D) Consumers with similar demographic characteristics do not necessarily form a meaningful program target.

8. It can be inferred from the passage that which of the following is true for most consumer-goods markets?

Answer: (E) The program target and the program audience are not usually identical.

Passage 36: Protein Synthesis and Gene Expression

Question + correct answer

1. The passage is primarily concerned with discussing the

Answer: (B) role of the synthesis and degradation of mRNA in cell functioning

2. The passage suggests that a biologist who held the view described in the first sentence of the second paragraph would most probably also have believed which of the following?

Answer: (A) The rate of degradation of specific mRNA■s has little effect on protein concentrations.

3. Which of the following best describes the relationship between the second and third paragraphs of the passage?

Answer: (C) The third paragraph describes a specific case of a phenomenon that is described generally in the second paragraph.

4. The accumulation of concentrations of hemoglobin in red blood cells is mentioned in the passage as an example of which of the following?

Answer: (A) The effectiveness of simultaneous variation of the rates of synthesis and degradation of mRNA

5. To begin to control a disease caused by a protein deficiency, the passage suggests that a promising experimental treatment would be to administer a drug that would reduce

Answer: (A) only the degradation rate for the mRNA of the protein involved

6. According to the passage, which of the following best describes the current view 98 GMAT, GRE, LSAT ■■ on the relationship between the synthesis and the degradation of mRNA in regulating protein synthesis?

Answer: (E) Degradation of mRNA is now considered to be as important as mRNA synthesis has been, and still is, believed to be.

7. According to the passage, which of the following can happen when protein synthesis is not appropriately regulated?

Answer: (B) Cancer can result from an excess of certain proteins and diabetes can result from an insulin deficiency.

8. The passage suggests that a biologist who detected high levels of two proteins in a certain type of cell would be likely to consider which of the following as a possible explanation?

Answer: (D) The mRNA■s for both proteins are being degraded at a low rate in that type of cell.

Passage 37: Global Corporations and the International Economy

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage as a whole is to

Answer: (C) identify a trend and suggest its importance

2. According to the passage, all of the following are elements of the shifting world economy EXCEPT

Answer: (B) an increase in interaction between national governments and international regulatory institutions

3. The passage suggests which of the following about global corporations?

Answer: (E) Their influence on world economics will continue to increase. 100 GMAT, GRE, LSAT ■■

4. According to the passage, one similarity between the FTA and Europe 1992 is that they both

Answer: (C) exemplify a trend toward regionalization of commercial markets

5. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage about the European Community prior to the adoption of the Europe 1992 program?

Answer: (A) There were restrictions on commerce between the member nations.

6. The author discusses the FTA and Europe 1992 most likely in order to

Answer: (C) provide contrasting examples of a trend that is influencing the world economy

7. Which of the following best describes the organization of the passage?

Answer: (D) A phenomenon is identified and illustrations of this phenomenon offered.

Passage 38: Automation, Management, and Labor in Machine-Tool

Question + correct answer

1. The author of the passage is primarily concerned with

Answer: (C) analyzing a scholarly study and pointing out a central weakness

2. According to information in the passage, the term “de-skilling” refers to the

Answer: (B) substitution of mechanized processes for labor formerly performed by skilled workers

3. Which of the following best characterizes the function of the second paragraph of the passage?

Answer: (A) It develops a topic introduced in the first paragraph.

4. The passage suggests which of the following about N/C automation in the machine-tool industry? 102 GMAT, GRE, LSAT
■■

Answer: (C) It was designed without the active involvement skilled machinists.

5. Which of the following phrases most clearly reveals the attitude of the author of the passage toward Noble■■s central argument?

Answer: (E) “only evidence of conspiracy” (line 21)

6. The author of the passage commends Noble■■s book for which of the following?

Answer: (E) Applying the concept of de-skilling to the machine tool industry

7. Which of the following best characterizes Forces of Production as it is described in the passage?

Answer: (D) A history of a particular industry from an ideological point of view

Passage 39: The Biology of Pain and Pain Relief

Question + correct answer

1. The passage is primarily concerned with

Answer: (C) describing how pain signals are conveyed in the body and discussing ways in which the pain signals can be blocked

2. According to the passage, which of the following is one of the first things to occur when cells are injured?

Answer: (D) A flood of prostaglandins sensitizes nerve endings at the site of the injury. 104 GMAT, GRE, LSAT
■■

3. Of the following, which is most likely attributable to the effect of endorphins as described in the passage?

Answer: (E) After acupuncture, a patient with chronic back pain reports that the pain is much less severe.

4. It can be inferred from the passage that if the prostaglandin synthetase is only partially blocked, which of the following is likely to be true?

Answer: (B) Some substance P is likely to be produced, so some pain signals will reach the brain.

Passage 40: Japanese Manufacturing Efficiency and Production Practices

Question + correct answer

1. The primary purpose of the passage is to

Answer: (D) correct misconceptions

2. The author suggests that if the observers of Japan mentioned in line 3 were correct, which of the following would be the case?

Answer: (E) The production levels of Japanese-run plants located in the United States would be equal to those of plants run by United States companies.

3. Which of the following statements concerning the productivity levels of automakers can be inferred from the passage?

Answer: (A) Prior to the 1960s, the productivity levels of the top Japanese automakers were exceeded by those of United States automakers.

4. According to the passage, which of the following statements is true of Japanese automobile workers?

Answer: (D) They are trained to do more than one job.

5. Which of the following best describes the organization of the first paragraph?

Answer: (C) A fact is stated, and an explanation is advanced and then refuted.

6. It can be inferred from the passage that one problem associated with the production of huge lots of cars is which of the following?

Answer: (B) The need to store extra components not required for immediate use

7. Which of the following statements is supported by information stated in the passage?

Answer: (A) Japanese and United States automakers differ in their approach to production processes.

8. With which of the following predictive statement regarding Japanese automakers would the author most likely agree?

Answer: (A) The efficiency levels of the Japanese automakers will decline if they become less flexible in their approach to production.

Passage 41: Serotonin and the Brain–Body Connection

Question + correct answer

1. Which of the following titles best summarizes the contents of the passage?

Answer: (E) The Effects of Food Intake on the Production and Release of Serotonin: Some Recent Findings

2. According to the passage, the speed with which tryptophan is provided to the brain cells of a rat varies with the

Answer: (A) amount of protein present in a meal

3. According to the passage, when the authors began their first studies, they were aware that

Answer: (E) serotonin levels increased after rats were injected with a large amount of tryptophan

4. According to the passage, one reason that the authors gave rats carbohydrates was to

Answer: (C) cause the rats to produce insulin

5. According to the passage, the more protein a rat consumes, the lower will be the

Answer: (B) ratio of the rat's blood-tryptophan concentration to the concentration in its blood of the other amino acids contained in the protein

6. The authors' discussion of the "mechanism that provides blood tryptophan to the brain cells" (lines 31-32) is meant to

Answer: (C) help explain why a particular research finding was obtained

7. According to the passage, an injection of insulin was most similar in its effect on rats to an injection of

Answer: (D) tryptophan

8. It can be inferred from the passage that which of the following would be LEAST likely to be a potential source of aid to a patient who was not adequately producing and releasing serotonin?

Answer: (A) Meals consisting almost exclusively of protein

9. It can be inferred from the passage that the authors initially held which of the following hypotheses about what would happen when they fed large amounts of protein to rats?

Answer: (A) The rats' brain serotonin levels would not decrease.

Passage 42: How New Historical Interpretations Change the Past

Question + correct answer

1. The “new pasts” mentioned in line 6 can best be described as the
